

Dance

is like dreaming with your feet

On Saturday July 25th, 2015, Teknique School of Dance had the pleasure of hosting a Dance Attack Workshop. Emily Einsmann, a well-known and respected freelance dancer, choreographer, and teacher ran the day-long workshop. Jazz, Lyrical and Tap were offered to dancers over the ages of six years and older. We had a great turn out of students who learned a lot from the talented guest instructor. All the girls had an amazing experience; one that they will remember and treasure always.

Emily Einsmann is a freelance dancer, choreographer, and teacher based in Toronto. (Emily's versatility forges the bonds between technique and artistry, and her co-existing levels of success in both the commercial industry and the contemporary dance world set her apart.)

After years of training under ballet mistresses from The Goh Ballet and The Royal Winnipeg Ballet, Emily went on to receive her B.F.A in Performance Dance from Ryerson University. Upon graduation, she was immediately launched into the commercial world, and has worked and performed with Hedley, The Weekend, Drake, Kardinal Offishall, Naughty by Nature, Young MC, Sugarhill Gang, Rob Base, Karl Wolf, MuchMusic and YTV, to name a few.

Her dance adventures have taken Emily all over the world, including to China, Dubai, Qatar, and all throughout the USA. Emily recently cast, choreographed and danced in two full length original contemporary works that toured throughout Dubai. She also choreographed the official City of Toronto's 2013 Tree Lighting Ceremony, a record production that drew in over 8,000 spectators.

Emily's dedication to dance and art is evident on and off the stage. Her ultimate goal is to transport audiences with her performance, and to pass on her passion and knowledge to up and coming artists!
